

A diary entry

It was an unlucky day for me today because my sister and I were sick.

In the morning, we had breakfast at home. Then we took a bus to Sai Kung Country Park. The weather was cool and sunny. We were excited.

When we arrived at the county park, we took some photos because the view was beautiful. There was a river. It was not deep and it was small. I could see some fish swimming in the water, too.

We had walked for a long time. 'I feel so hot.' my sister said. Then, we play in the river. We felt very happy. We were all wet but we forgot to bring the towel.

After a while, we decided to go home. When we were at home, we felt sick. She had a cough and a sneeze. I had a runny nose and a headache. Dad took us to see the doctor. The doctor said we had the flu. He told us to take some pills and a lot of rest.

From this incident, I learned that I should listen to Dad. Now I was very regretted.
