

What did you do last week?

(4D Nick Wong)

Last Sunday, we did not go out. Mum wanted to clean our house. Dad cleaned the window. Mum washed the clothes. I swept the floor. I felt tired but happy. I am a helpful boy.

Last Wednesday, when we were having an English lesson, I helped my teacher to clean the blackboard. I felt excited. I like to help teachers and classmates.

Last Friday morning on the MTR, I saw an old lady with a walking stick. I gave the seat to her because I thought she was tired. She said thank you to me. I felt happy.

Last Saturday, when I went home, I saw a little boy crying on the street. He felt scared because he strayed from his mother. Finally, I helped him to find his mother. I felt excited. Helping others is meaningful and happy.
